Abstract

The bible says Jesucrist has resurrected. Many people questions if to resurrect is possible, they say there is no proof. In this article we explain how we can prove to resurrect.

Keywords: Resurrection, bible, to be true, I'm..

Document .

If we are true, we live, if we live we are true. There are many actitudes we must have to be true: not to kill, not to stolen, not to lie if this is to prejudice others (Bible). If we are true, we can not be killed, we resurrect. True is different from false. To be false is risky, is not to be. In (Peratto, 2024) is presented a logic based in metaphysics. There we explain how to be true having positive affirmative thinking.

If we allow the others to live we are true. If we are good with the others, if we are better persons, the others feel better and ourselves too. Feeling better is probable to live more time. As better we are, more true we are. To be solidary is to be better, is to allow the others to live and then to live ourselves.

We can not accept inequality. There is poor people, while others stolen and kill by money. The last two ways are to be false. We have all the same rights. What we do to the others, happen to us, if not immediately, after or in a next life. Brian Weiss has shown we live many lives (Weiss 1992, 2002, 2021).

What we have to do to resurrect? To be true implies to live. We resurrect being true. To live implies to kill is a false implication. Is true implies false.

If I don't kill I'm not killed. There is people that says: "I have killed and I'm not dead". Can happen different things: the person killed resurrects, dies the person that has killed after some time, the person pays in a possible next life. This happens because Action and Reaction is true. This was said first in the Bible, and proved after in Physics by Newton (Resnik et al, 1992). A person that kills by money has greater probability of being poor in a next life.

There are persons that live to kill and stolen. These persons does not understand that to kill is to be ill. Are bad persons. To be bad is to be ill too. To kill is to kill oneself, is to be false. Implies to not resurrect. To be false is not to be. Not to kill is to live.

Many people says "I have killed and I can not resurrect the dead", and think can not be forgiven.

God forgives. If one has killed and is repented and does not kill anymore, becomes true and resurrects. The parable of the prosigal son of the Bible says this (S. Lucas 15, 1960).

To be true you have to be yourself (Saint Germain). Saint Germain says Jesucrist has said: I'm the resurrection and the life, and has resurrected.

With what I have written above I have proved a person can resurrect.
